Educational leadership is a hot issue in the educational circle in the 21st century. Whether it is a regular forum on education, the selection of educational leaders or the training of educational leaders, it all shows that every country attaches great importance to the construction of educational leadership. Successful and strong education, leadership enables top-level design and correct policy implementation, and correct leadership of school workers and students at the forefront of academia and education. In China, the education leaders are usually based on the fundamental problem of "what people to train, how to train people and for whom", while most education leaders in other countries are usually based on "cultivating talents and building the country".

By combing and analyzing the relevant research results of educational leadership at home and abroad, the basic concepts and characteristics of educational leadership can be obtained. In modern Chinese education, educational leadership is a word with great characteristics and power. Groups with this ability should not only develop scientific and correct management methods, establish a complete management mechanism and division of responsibilities, and put forward development policies to adapt to market changes, but also cultivate and give full play to the potential of employees. With the development of the society and the change of times, the educational leadership is also changing in the development.

1. Educational leadership development and change. Constantly, the meetings of various educational practical leaders are hold, which increased the cooperation and interaction between countries, and promoted the innovative development of educational leadership communication.

2. It is proven the retention of educational leadership for competent educators. Educational leadership needs to play a leading role in guidance, support and communication. In other words, effective leadership is easier to retain talent, it ensures that teachers are well trained and supported, courses and textbooks are up to date with standards, and students have access to the necessary resources.

3. Educational leadership promotes the development of urban culture and economy. Research shows that education development has a significant impact on economic and cultural growth for every country. To sum up, educational leadership has an indispensable impact on education, and effective leadership can better promote the development of education of the whole region, and even of the whole country and be in line with international standards.
